S&G Communications

Structured Cabling – WIFI - Video Surveillance Systems - VoIP Phones - IT & Network Services

Specializing in Network Cabling Services for Hospitals and Healthcare Facilities

S&G Communications is one of a select few low voltage providers approved by Northwestern Medicine. Here is why we are preferred:

We have been working in Northwestern Medicine hospitals since 1993 and we are a preferred vendor.

We are very experienced working in difficult cabling environments like hospital ceilings or the surgical suite.

Much of our work is performed after hours when hospital traffic has quieted down.

We interact especially well with the Nursing staff when working in patient areas.

We have infection control enclosures (tents), with positive airflow used in all inpatient areas.

We are familiar with firestop procedures and passing IDPH inspections and have been called upon to remedy firewall penetrations by others.

We are familiar with the special considerations for working in behavioral health.

We have performed installations and upgrades of wireless access points.

We have installed Distributed Antenna Systems and 5G upgrades.

Customer Comments:

"I want S&G to do the work"

- Operations Manager

"I know it will be done right"

- IT Manager

"My favorite installers"

Hepacart Environmental Containment Unit

S&G Communications has installed structured cabling for over 30 years. We also specialize in IP phone systems, wireless design and installation, video surveillance systems, IT and network services.

Prior to owning S&G Communications, our President, Jack Bush, spent most of his career with Ameritech/Illinois Bell working with hospitals. We are a network infrastructure company that is knowledgeable and comfortable with the unique needs of hospital environments. We would welcome the opportunity to introduce ourselves to you.
